

Michael Whelan

WITHOUT GOD
ALL THINGS ARE LAWFUL

WITHOUT GOD ALL THINGS ARE LAWFUL

A collection of essays covering different aspects of Christian spirituality. The content of the essays demonstrates clearly that spirituality is, in the end, about how our daily lives take shape. Thus insights from literature and contemporary movies are found side by side with insights from sacred scripture and the classical tradition. These essays are only for those who take their faith seriously enough to seek meaty and challenging reading.

Michael Whelan is a Marist priest of the Australian Province. He gained his MA and PhD from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, while studying under Adrian van Kaam. Currently he is President of the Catholic Theological Union (Sydney) where he also lectures in Spirituality.

● Cover painting: © Agostino De Romanis, reproduced by his kind permission.

ST PAULS

ISBN 1-875570-46-2

9 781875 570461

AUST. RRP $19.95